If cleanliness is next to godliness how far are the post-office grafters removed from godliness?

Really, it doesn't appear that Mr. Cleveland did anything more than fight correspondent Bailey to a draw.

A man in New Jersey ate a black snake and then was candid enough to acknowledge that he was a reincarnated hog.

An esteemed contemporary says "the Delaware lynchers were determined." Well, it does look that way to a man up a tree.

Some of our paragraphs must be good. One of our esteemed uses them for "sandwiches," but gives the caterer no credit.

Every North Carolina paragrapher has his pencil sharpened and is lying in wait for the announcement of the thirteenth candidate for Governor.

It cannot be denied that Mr. Cleveland is the only man on earth who knows whether he is a Presidential candidate (receptive or otherwise) or not.

The general movement for celebrating the "Glorious Fourth" throughout the country is being eagerly watched by the surgeons and undertakers.

Why does a man who discontinues his subscription to a newspaper when indebted to it consider himself absolved from all legal and moral obligation to pay the honest debt?

A Northern Judge has decided that a necklace comes under the head of female wearing apparel. And, doubtless, he would decide that the Atlantic City bathing suits come under the same head.

The Chattanooga Times thinks "the feudists of Kentucky and West Virginia have now about gone the limit." Not quite, as to West Virginia. The Governor of that State has not yet been assassinated.

The suggestion that the Administration try the "water cure" on recalcitrant witnesses in the post-office investigation will never be adopted. Possibly water enough may be used to make the whitewash.

Of course, that Brooklyn 'Squire was right in deciding that it was disorderly conduct for one woman to call another woman an old maid. And if a man were to use such an epithet the old maids would say it was a case of mandamus.

COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Physicians of New Hanover Organized Under Auspices of State Association. Meeting Wednesday Evening.

A large number of the physicians of the city met Thursday evening in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. and effected the organization of the "New Hanover County Medical Society," the objects and purposes of which are obvious. Dr. W. D. McMillan was called to the chair and Dr. T. M. Green was requested to act as secretary.

The county organization, as outlined by Dr. Frank H. Russell, will be an integral part of the State Association and will co-operate with that body in the promulgation of the best sanitary and hygeinic legislation and will conserve the public health in every manner possible.

The matter of the election of officers of the New Hanover Society was deferred until a subsequent meeting to be called by the chairman. A committee composed of Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, Dr. W. D. McMillan and Dr. Thos. M. Green, was appointed to draft suitable constitution and by-laws and report at the next meeting.

DAY'S COURT RECORD.

Superior Term Adjourned Yesterday After Disposition of Unimportant Cases.

DEMURRER IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Counsel for R. J. Sykes Allowed to Amend Complaint and Make Other Parties. Excursionists Before the Mayor. Negro Sent Over—Notes.

Superior Court adjourned for the term yesterday morning with the disposition of a few unimportant criminal matters and one or two civil actions of no interest. Ernest Blount, colored, previously convicted of simple assault, was sentenced by Judge Peebles to the county roads for 30 days and required to pay the costs.

In the damage suit of R. J. Sykes against the C. R., L. & P. Co., in which plaintiff asks for $5,000 by reason of injuries received in the accident of an iron door falling upon him and breaking his leg at the gas house several months ago, a demurrer was filed by Iredell Meares, Esq., defendant's counsel, on the ground that the complaint doesn't state the cause of action and does not join the proper parties defendant. The demurrer was resisted by Russell & Gore, counsel for plaintiff, but it was at length sustained by Judge Peebles. Plaintiff was allowed to amend complaint and make new parties.

It was ordered that all civil cases not disposed of at this term be continued and time be allowed to file pleadings in all cases where pleadings have not been filed.

The term just ended has not been an important one. Robert and Walter Thomas, colored, were sentenced five years each for manslaughter and will be taken to the penitentiary Tuesday or Wednesday. Julius Taylor, the little colored boy who figured in the disgraceful conduct at Delgado, received two years on the county roads and Joe Hill, colored, convicted of stealing a soda water tank, received one year on the roads. Those were the chief sentences of the week. The next term of court doesn't convene until September.

Magisterial Court Circles.

The three belligerent excursionists from Columbus county whose warlike achievements were referred to in these columns yesterday were arraigned before Mayor Springer yesterday at noon. D. Norris, who fired five times consecutively at a retreating negro in the vicinity of Front and Grace streets, was fined $10 for shooting a pistol in the city limits and $30 for being drunk and disorderly, with the cost in each case, the aggregate amount being $39.80, which was paid. The negro did not testify that Mr. Norris was firing at him and no one could testify as to having seen the weapon concealed. J. A. Norris, who was disorderly at the A. C. L. station upon the departure of the excursion and upon whose person a pistol and metal knucks were found, was sent to jail but later arranged for bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the September term of Superior Court. Judgment was suspended upon payment of costs in another case against him for being drunk and disorderly. The third member of the party, Josh McPherson, was fined $5 and cost for disorderly conduct.

Failing to give a peace bond in the sum of $50 upon a warrant sworn out by N. Evans, whom he threatened to shoot, William Butler, a negro shop-keeper of "Brooklyn," was sent to jail by Justice Fowler yesterday for the period of six months, or until the bond is given.

In Justice Bornemann's court yesterday Robert Swindell, colored, charged with disorderly conduct in "Dross Neck," was sent to the roads for 30 days.

It was the fourth consecutive victory the College Boys have won since organization, no defeats having been chalked up against them. There was a good crowd present and the "fans" seemed to be favorably impressed with the article of ball dished up. The line up was as follows:

| COLLEGE TEAM. | | HOME TEAM. |

SUDDEN DEATH OF A CHILD.

Little Son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fennell Died Morning After Receiving Injuries from a Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Fennell, No. 811 Chesnut street, have the sympathy of friends in the sudden and almost tragic death of their little son, Frank Peele, aged a little less than eight years, who passed away at the family residence yesterday morning.

The boy late Friday afternoon fell from the balustrade of the front porch of his father's home, striking his head violently against the ground. The accident was regarded trivial by the boy's mother, as he was soon playing about the house as usual and was cheerful and bright until he went to bed at night. Yesterday morning he complained of a slight headache, but otherwise appeared all right. About 10 o'clock Mrs. Fennell discovered that his nose was bleeding and almost instantly the little fellow relapsed into unconsciousness and died within a few minutes. The parents of the child are members of the Christian Science faith and no physician was summoned, but had one been called he would not have been able to reach the child in time to save his life.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was summoned and gave as his opinion that death resulted from injuries received in the fall the afternoon previous. The funeral will be conducted at 9 o'clock this morning from the family residence.

MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Miss Willye Enneti, of Wilmington, the Bride of Mr. Gregg, of Sumter, S. C.

The marriage of Miss Willye Enneti, a popular and accomplished young lady of this city, and Mr. Charles Miot Gregg, a valued employe of the Atlantic Coast Line at Sumter, S. C., was quietly conducted in the presence of relatives and a few friends, on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the A. C. L. infirmary of the latter city, where the groom is convalescing from a severe illness. It was originally intended that the ceremony would be performed in the First Presbyterian church here, but the illness of Mr. Gregg prevented, so the marriage was solemnized by the bride's pastor, the Rev. J. M. Wells, of this city, in Sumter.

The rooms in which the happy event was consummated were made very attractive with beautiful plants and flowers and the scene was a pretty one indeed. Miss Sallie Ennett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Bennie Gregg, of Marion, S. C., brother of the groom, was best man. Among those who witnessed the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gregg, parents, and Miss Belle Gregg, sister of the groom, all of Marion, S. C., and Mrs. E. T. Ruggins, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg will be at home after Wednesday, July 15th, at 109 South Harvin street, Sumter, S. C.

STRONG BID FOR PATRONAGE.

The Casino This Week Returns to Vaudeville for Fourth of July.

The Casino this week goes back to straight vaudeville and it being the week of the 4th of July, the management has secured six real top-liners—Harry Melville and Lona May, comedy sketch team; Geanne and Reuand, musical artists; Signor Bensley, the renowned foot juggler, and Mde. Helen Pelletier, prima donna soprano.

Altogether this will be much the strongest bill yet offered and it is expected to prove the banner week in point of patronage. Large rockers and tables have recently been added to the verandas of The Casino and where to the sweet strains of Prof. Brannon's orchestra all light refreshments are served before and after the performance.

A Successful Excursion.

Charlotte Observer: The second annual excursion of the Pritchard Memorial Baptist Sunday school was a success in all particulars. The patrons had a thoroughly enjoyable trip, and the managers of the excursion netted a handsome sum for their Sunday school. Elegant order was observed on the train and there was no accident of any kind. The excursionists returned from the coast yesterday morning. The second train was considerably delayed by a breakdown of the engine shortly after leaving Wilmington. The entire management of the excursion was good, and was the subject of much favorable comment on the part of the excursionists.

Music at Carolina Beach.

MR. WILLIAM I. GORE

Aged and Highly Respected Retired Merchant of Wilmington Died Last Night.

SUFFERED WITH PARALYSIS.

Stroke a Year Ago, Followed by Others, Caused His Death—Long and Distinguished Career of Business Man and Soldier—Funeral.

Mr. William Iredell Gore, for many years one of the leading wholesale grocery merchants of the city and a man highly esteemed and beloved in the community in which he lived, passed away at his home, No. 410 Orange street, last night at 8:10 o'clock, after a lingering illness following a stroke of paralysis which he suffered about a year ago. That attack was followed by another during the Winter, another last Friday and still another yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He had been unconscious since yesterday morning and the end came peacefully last night at the hour stated, with all members of the devoted family at his bedside. The news of his death while not entirely unexpected, will come with deepest regret to many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere, for he was a man who made friends and lasting ones.

Mr. Gore was born at Little River, S. C., Dec. 25th 1829 and was, therefore, 73 years of age. While a young man he was engaged in various pursuits in his native county but he removed to Wilmington in 1868 and engaged in the wholesale grocery and commission business in the store now occupied by Stone & Co., on South Water street. Later he associated himself with Mr. D. L. Gore under the firm name of Gore & Gore, which partnership resulted in the building up of a very large business in heavy groceries. The firm also handled peanuts extensively. Later the deceased associated with him self his son, the late Albert Gore, under the firm name of W. I. Gore & Son, which also prospered to an unusual degree. Mr. Gore was last engaged as a member of the firm of Corbett & Gore, now the M. J. Corbett Company, with large offices and warehouses near the A. C. L. yards. About three years ago, on account of feeble health, Mr. Gore was forced to retire from the active duties of a business life and since that time had devoted himself to his family and home.

In the year of 1854 deceased married Miss Rachel Ann Litchfield, of Little River, S. C., and the two had lived happily together until death came yesterday to dissolve bonds which had held them as devoted husband and wife within a few months of 50 years. The bereaved wife and three daughters are the only members of his immediate family surviving and to them is poured out the tenderest sympathy of the community. The daughters are Miss Julia Gore, Mrs. Fred E. Owen and Mrs. L. L. Pritchard, all of this city. He is also survived by a sister and brother—Mrs. J. H. Stone, of Little River, S. C., and Mr. B. F. Gore, who lately removed to Wilmington. The grandchildren surviving, of whom Mr. Gore was especially fond, are Misses Bessie L. Gore, Thurber Gore, Julia Owen, Edith I. Pritchard and Messrs. Albert, W. I. Gore, Jr., Milton B. Gore and Thos. H. Pritchard.

At the outbreak of the civil war Mr. Gore responded promptly to his country's call and enlisted in 1861 as second lieutenant in the Waccamaw Light Artillery, which was formed in the upper portion of Horry county, S. C., and which was stationed during the conflict at Fort Randall and Fort Sumter, S. C. He was a brave soldier and an intrepid leader.

In public life after the war, he had served as a member of the City Board of Audit and Finance and was a director in a number of leading financial institutions. His counsel was often sought in business affairs and was always conservative and of that kind that could be relied upon.

The funeral will be conducted at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon from the late residence and the interment will be in Oakdale.

The Postoffice Elevator.

Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy is in receipt of a letter from Supervising Architect J. K. Taylor, of the Treasury Department, at Washington, stating that an engineer from his office will be sent in a few days to Wilmington to obtain necessary data for the preparation of specifications and drawings for an elevator for the U. S. Postoffice and Court House building in this city. It will be remembered that Mr. Bellamy, while in Congress, secured an appropriation for an elevator, which has been needed badly for several years.

Educational Rally.

There will be a large gathering of Christians and patriots on Dell School grounds at Delway, Sampson county, N. C., on July 4th. Prof. Plato Durham, of Trinity College, is expected speak, with others. Music will be furnished by the Williams' String Band and dinner will be served on the grounds.

THE WILMINGTON POSTOFFICE

Applicants for the Position Are Marshalling Their Strength—Business Endorsements Very Desirable.

That there will be a spirited fight for the Wilmington postmastership—and that very soon—is apparent from the large number of endorsements received during the past week by three or more applicants for the position. The term of office of the present incumbent, Miss Mary C. Darby, who will soon have served four years, expires in the early Fall, and already forces are at work to determine whether she is to be reappointed or the place is to go to some one else.

Among those who are reported to be asking for endorsements are Miss Darby, Assistant Postmaster T. E. Wallace and Mr. J. M. Forchee. Business men, regardless of party affiliation, are being asked to express a preference, and some are doing so.

Many Democrats are taking the ground that while it is "none of their fight," the office is one of the most important in the State, and that inasmuch as it is sure to go to some Republican anyway, they had as well advantage themselves of the benefits of an invitation to take a hand and secure the appointment of some one whom their best judgment dictates as the proper person to hold the place.

It is furthermore stated that the list of applicants is by no means complete yet, but that the leaders are already in the field.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN.

Spike Placed on Southern Rail Near Raleigh—Negro Suspected.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., June 27.—There was a dastardly attempt to wreck a Southern railway passenger train this morning on a curve three miles east of Raleigh. Section Master Neill found a spike placed on the track so as to make the engine or cars jump. The plot was discovered by the merest accident a few minutes before the train was due. A strange negro was seen sneaking about the place just before the discovery, but escaped. Blood hounds from the penitentiary failed to strike a trail.

WILLIAM H BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 28.

THE JUNE BRIDEGROOM.

Savannah News: Rhapsodies on the June bride are now ripe, and the crop is bountiful. The dear creature, of course, is worthy of all the good things said about her. She is the loveliest, sweetest, most charming and altogether delightful thing that ever came down the pike, or the central aisle of the church. Her very presence is a benediction and a suggestion of the spiced isles, and her dresses—Ah, they are dreams! If you don't believe it just get into the company of any of her girl friends; you won't have the trouble of asking about it. The June bride is "it" at this season of the year. She is always "top of column next to reading matter," which being interpreted means that she gets choice position, where she and her beauty and her gown would positively demand attention if it were not given freely, gladly and voluntarily. She deserves, and has, the admiration of all creation.

And yet we make bold to put in a little plea on behalf of the June bridegroom, that he be not forgotten. Ordinarily he cuts mighty little figure in the proceedings. He is regarded rather in the light of a piece of the stage settings, or a foil to show off the radiant beauty of the bride-elect. That he is a very necessary adjunct to the function which brings the bride all ablush into the public eye will be admitted. But who notices how he is dressed? Not even the bride herself. She and the others have a hazy picture of a man with something black on his body and something white on his hands, and some of the spectators may observe a scared look on his face. But that is about all. Nobody says, "Wasn't he handsome!" "How perfectly his costume set off his splendid figure!" "Wasn't he just too sweet for anything!" Comments and compliments of the kind are reserved for the bride. The bridegroom doesn't get them. And, to tell the truth, he is glad of it. He is well content for "her" to be the recipient of all the attentions while he stands meekly in the background. It's less embarrassing and less bothersome.

It is after the wedding and in the home life that the June bridegroom shows up big, if he is of the right sort, and most of them are. It is when the honeymoon has waned that he proves to the June bride the wisdom of her choice. It is when he takes off his coat and hustles hard at work all day, and is tender, loving and true under the evening lamp, that he demonstrates he is not the clothing dummy that he appeared to be during the wedding ceremony. It may be that the world will not notice it. No mention of the fact will be found in the society columns, and the neighborhood gossips will have nothing to say about it. But when he has made her a happy home the June bride will understand and appreciate the fact, if she is of the right sort, and most of them are, and will bless the day that brought to her her very own June bridegroom. They are both good people; may they live long and prosper.

IOWA DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Baltimore Sun: The platform of the Iowa Democratic State Convention, adopted at Des Moines on Wednesday, may be regarded as significant. It seems to indicate that the party in that Western State has put its hand to the plow and is not looking back. By a great majority a resolution to reaffirm the Chicago and Kansas City platforms was rejected. Twice have the Democrats standing on those platforms been defeated, and they seem to be weary of it. The free silver issue appears to be as dead as Julius Cæsar, and there is no more reason why the party should reaffirm any platform containing that proposition than it should take up for discussion the Missouri compromise or the Wilmot proviso. The Iowa convention very properly refused to occupy itself with dead and buried issues. It concerned itself about those things which have a living interest and which concern the health and wealth of the people.

This is the deliverance on the tariff as the mother of trusts and the promoter of monopoly:

We find much in the domestic affairs of the nation that ought to be changed. The tariff policy, originally adopted for the avowed purpose of raising revenue to meet the enormous burdens of the Civil War, has been turned to the use of individual and class interests, until it has become the creator of countless unearned fortunes and the shelter of huge combinations of capital, organized in the form of trusts, which are strangling competition in many of our industries, destroying individual effort, crushing ambition largely in every line of industry and already acquiring power, which enables them to dictate in their own interest the prices of the labor and raw material and the cost of transportation of finished products.

The fundamental and underlying principle of the Democratic party is the equality of every man before the law. "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" used to be the battle cry of the Democratic hosts at the time when the party of Jackson stood for government by the people. The unequal laws of forty years have enriched the few at the cost of the many and the tariff in the strong language of the Iowa platform has become the creator of unearned fortunes and the shelter of monopolies, destroying individual effort and crushing out ambition. Surely the time has come for a campaign looking to the modification of such laws, and the demand for such modification should find a place in every Democratic declaration.

The Iowa platform favors measures to give to the people of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico their inalienable right to self government and "deplores the corrupt condition of the Government service in the Postoffice Department" and demands an investigation of that as well as of the other departments of the Government by a Congressional committee.

THE MORNING STAR is pleased with the action of the Iowa Democratic convention; but it is a mistake to refer to it as a "victory for the Gold Democrats." It was a victory of the sensible, thinking men of the party who have learned something by experience. The nominee for Governor had always supported Bryan, but his nomination by acclamation shows that he is satisfactory to all factions of the party.

The rapid increase of crime among negroes in the North, and specially the crime of rape on white women, may be traced directly to the large emigration of negro brutes from the South. And they are receiving the same warm welcome there that they would have received for similar crimes here.

Capt. Pershing gives a thrilling account of the "battle" at Lake Lanao, in the Philippines, he being in command of the Americans. He describes it as a "bloody hand to hand fight." Net result, 150 Moros killed, but not one American. Pershing ought to be promoted.

— "Isn't that disgusting," said the crankey man in the trolley car. "Look at that fellow with his arm around the girl's waist." "Oh!" replied his wife, "I guess you don't like to see anybody making love anyway." "Well, if people must love it ought to be home-made."—Philadelphia Press.

— Exit the Editor: "You have no use for the papers, you say," remarked the tourist. "No," replied the wild Westerner, "they git too personal sometimes. ### SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— It is said that there are upwards of fifty industries of various kinds in High Point, and a tremendous concern for the manufacture of street cars is now being organized.

— Hillsboro Observer: The town commissioners have refused to grant license to retail spirituous liquors in Hillsboro after the 30th day of June, the date of the expiration of the present liquor license.

—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: Mr. J. P. Ratliff, of Gulledge township, sold a few days ago to Mr. Robert Singleton the lumber from two poplar trees, amounting to 27,063 feet. He received for the lumber $41.44.

— The Winston Sentinel says that the surveying corps are again at work on the proposed line of the Stone Mountain Railroad. The work will be finished up in two or three weeks and the line located, when the work of building the road will begin.

—Lumberton Argus: A gentleman near Burgaw has produced a cross between two varieties of Irish potatoes, resulting in a superfine white variety, which sells on the northern markets at a considerable advance above other varieties. —— Mr. B. J. Bostick has 90 acres in potatoes, melons and cucumbers at the Alex. McIntyre old place, 11 miles from Lumberton, and gives most encouraging reports as to the condition of his several crops.

— Kinston Free Press: A severe hail storm struck the section of this county on the Hull road, about six miles from Kinston, yesterday doing great damage to tobacco and other growing crops. The scope of the storm was limited, being about 3 miles in length and not over a mile in width. Among the heaviest loses was Mr. J. F. Horner, who had 40 acres of fine tobacco almost destroyed. He carried $2,000 hail insurance but says that amount will not pay his damage.

— Washington, N. C., special to Raleigh News Observer: Isaac Chauncey, a white man working as sawyer at the Freeman & Hodges mill in the west end of the city, was almost instantly killed at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Chauncey in some manner got caught in the belting in the machinery room and he was hurled around bodily through the air. His leg was entirely torn off and the body, in fact, is lacerated in every part. The death was a most agonizing and violent one.

— Tarboro Southerner: The cucumber is just now the most interesting crop around Conetoe, Edgecome county. While farmers in other sections are talking about the prospective prices for tobacco, cotton and peanuts, the Conetoe farmer has ceased all his Irish potato, cabbage and lettuce talk and rattles away about cucumbers, which they call cukes. They are selling now for about $2 50 a bushel. One farmer, it is said, has just refused an offer of $1,000 for the product on four acres.

— Morganton correspondent of Charlotte Observer: Messrs. W. H. Westall, of Asheville, and A. H. Abernethy, of Hickory, yesterday closed a deal for the timber on a part of Mr. Horace Haney's fine Linville river farm. The purchase price was $7,750. Mr. Haney, who came here from Philadelphia, bought his farm several years ago for $6,000. He has sold off timber to the amount of more than $10,000 and would not take $10,000 for the farm he has left.

—Oxford Ledger: John Ross, aged 84, and his son, aged 64, were both good and faithful soldiers in the civil war and both are drawing pensions in Granville. Mrs. Ross, the wife of John Ross, is 79, and all the family are in good health. —— Oxford is steadily moving forward. The 1900 census gave the town only 2,059 people. We have now by actual census taken in June 2,448 people. This does not include the cotton mill or suburban population. We have 980 children of school age in the town. Of these 505 are white and 475 are colored. This is a good showing for Oxford. Including the suburbs we have over 3,000 people.

MARRIED NEAR WALLACE, N C.

Miss Mary Octavia Highsmith Became the Bride of Mr. Paul Milton Smith on Wednesday Afternoon.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

WALLACE, N. C., June 27.—On June 24th, at 3 o'clock P. M., a very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Luther R. Highsmith, near Wallace, N. C., when their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Octavia, became the bride of Mr. Paul Milton Smith, of Abingdon, Va., the Rev. Dr. N. B. Cobb officiating. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, green and white being the color scheme.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march exquisitely rendered on the piano by Miss Eloise Taylor. The groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Emmett Highsmith, brother of the bride, first entered; next came the maid of honor, Miss Eva Highsmith, sister of the bride; then followed the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away.

The bride was becomingly attired in white mousaline, and carried a boquet of bride's roses and maiden-hair fern. The bride is a young woman of charming personality and exceptionally bright and sunny disposition. She has gone from us, to be queen of another's heart and to shine in another home. Mr. Smith is to be congratulated in winning so fair a bride.

The groom is a young man of fine character and sterling worth. The popularity of the bride was attested by the many lovely and useful gifts, which were displayed on a cover which graced the wedding table of the bride's great grandmother, more than seventy-five years ago.

After refreshments were served the bridal party left for Wallace where they took the evening train for their home in Virginias. Among the guests from a distance were Miss Neille DeVane, Faison, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Highsmith, Abbeville, S. C.; Miss Anna Lee DeVane, of Raleigh; Miss N. Stuart DeVane, of Wake Forest, N.C.; Mr. Emmett Highsmith, Miss Eva Highsmith, and Miss Laura Swinson, Wilmington, N. C.

AMERICAN FORESTRY.

The Object of Our Forest Policy Is the Making of Prosperous Homes.

President Roosevelt in a recent address before the Society of American Foresters, a professional body of which he is an associate member, declared the forest problem to be in many ways the most vital internal problem of the United States. The object of our forest policy, he said, is the making of prosperous homes. This policy must not be imposed upon the people. It can be effective only when the people believe that it is wise and useful; that it is indispensable. The president called attention to the close relation of forestry to the mining industry in the west, to the lumbering industry, whose very existence depends upon the success of forestry; to the railroads and to the grazing interests. Of the success of forestry in this country he said, "I believe that the foresters of the United States will create a more effective system of forestry than we have yet seen."

Among other things, President Roosevelt said: "And now, first and foremost, you can never afford to forget for one moment what is the object of our forest policy. That object is not to preserve the forests because they are beautiful, though that is good in itself, nor because they are refuges for the wild creatures of the wilderness, though that, too, is good in itself, but the primary object of our forest policy, as of the land policy of the United States, is the making of prosperous homes. It is part of the traditional policy of home making of our country. Every other consideration comes as secondary. The whole effort of the government in dealing with the forests must be directed to this end, keeping in view the fact that it is not only necessary to start the homes as prosperous, but to keep them so. That is why the forests have got to be kept. You can start a prosperous home by destroying the forests, but you cannot keep it prosperous that way.

"And you are going to be able to make that policy permanently the policy of the country only in so far as you are able to make the people at large and, above all, the people concretely interested in the results in the different localities appreciative of what it means. Impress upon them the full recognition of the value of its policy and make them earnest and zealous adherents of it. Keep in mind the fact that in a government such as ours it is out of the question to impose a policy like this from without. The policy of a permanent policy can come only from the intelligent conviction of the people themselves that it is wise and useful, nay, indispensable.

"'Forestry is the preservation of forests by wise use,' to quote a phrase I used in my first message to congress. Keep before your minds that definition. Forestry does not mean abbreviating that use; it means making the forest useful not only to the settler, the rancher, the miner, the man who lives in the neighborhood, but indirectly to the man who may live hundreds of miles off down the course of some great river which has had its rise among the forest bearing mountains."

Telling the Weather From Mists.

The motion of mists, rapid or slow, was regarded as one of the best methods of foretelling the approach of rain or snow. When there was a mist before the rise of the full moon, if clouds were seen in the west before the sun rose or there was a mist in the fields before sunrise, wet weather was expected. When the mists vanished rapidly and the moon seemed to rise faster than usual, fine weather was sure to gladden the hearts of the merrymakers on the succeeding day. When the winds changed and the clouds flew along on "tail," the farmers predicted a storm.

A NEW ROUND BARN.

It Has the Ordinary Roof Instead of the Very Expensive Round One.

This round barn, illustrated in Orange Judd Farmer, is described as sixty feet in diameter, with a basement eight feet high, the walls of which are stone, laid in cement. As the silo has given so much satisfaction in the northern states, two round silos are placed as indicated in the illustration. In the basement are stalls with swinging partitions for forty-five animals. The upper stories are used for storing feed and farm machinery. The basement is well lighted with good sized windows, arranged so that the ventilation is excellent. The posts are twenty feet high from top of basement to lowest part of the eaves. This with the eight foot basement and the comparatively steep roof brings the peak of the barn about forty feet above the surface of the ground.

SUGGESTED ELEVATION OF BARN.

The round roof for a round barn is very expensive. The arrangement shown in the illustration is just as effective and in many ways more convenient. For example, it is much easier to arrange a hay carrier with this form of roof than with a round one.

The swinging stall partitions are three feet high and suspended about twenty inches from the floor. At the outer edge a sliding bolt is so arranged that the partition may be made stationary by pushing the bolt into an opening in the floor. A chain hangs slack across the end of the stall to hold the animal in place. Three feet is about the correct width, as the stall is wider at the back. If the floor of the stall is given a proper drop and a trench is provided, the animals will remain clean and have plenty of room. When the cows are out of the barn, unhitch the chain and swing the partitions around into a manger. Drive in with a horse and cart and clean out the stable. The windows should be provided with shutters, so that the stable can be darkened during fly time and when the weather is very hot.

In building the basement it is desirable to start it about six or eight feet below the ground; then if necessary run it up to the roof. The part below the surface of the ground can be made of stone in the same way as the basement walls. Of course, the interior must be cemented much as a cistern. As the silos are located near the manger, the work of feeding is reduced to the minimum. Silage is always heavy to handle, and they should be as near the heads of the cattle as possible. A barn of this kind will cost all the way from $2,500 to $3,000. It provides more space than a rectangular barn in which the same amount of material has been used.

Dishonesty on the part of the American cheesemaker destroyed his English market for his product and gave to his shrewder and more honest Canadian competitor a market worth millions of dollars a year. It pays in the long run to be honest.

There should be more basswoods set out for shade trees. We doubt if among all the long list of native forest trees we have one which excels the basswood for hardiness, cleanliness and beauty of form and foliage. It always grows more beautiful as it grows old.

PREMATURE AGE

Is Brought on by a Failing Body, as Many Wilmington Readers Know.

Failure to provide for the welfare of the body causes the body to fail, and brings on premature age. Men of 35 who are afflicted with kidney troubles walk about like men of 75. It's easy to cure it, and to regain the elastic step that you should have. A well known Wilmington man tells how.

J. A. White, electrician for the Coast Line R. R, at Rocky Mount, residing at 206 North Sixth street, says: "I have had great trouble with my back, right across the loins, and when I sat still for a while I hardly knew how to move and when I did you would think I was seventy-five years old. They are pains all over me and I could not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies, but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints, in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

DR. MOFFETT'S TEETHINA (TEETHING POWDERS)

BLACK SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 18, 1901.

Rev. J. W. Berry (of Arkansas Methodist Conference, writes:) "Enclosed find fifty cents for which please mail me two packages of "TEETHINA." We wonder how we have raised children without it. The other day a lady in Missouri sent us a package and it came at a most opportune time; our babe was in a serious condition; his bowels had been in bad condition for days, and nothing that we gave did any good; the second dose of "TEETHINA" gave perfect relief and he has had no further trouble. Other members of the family have used it and every dose has been a perfect success.

HIS HEROIC INSTINCT

By D. H. Talmadge

Copyright, 1902, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate.

Callahan, the roundhouse foreman at St. James, passing through the yards on his way to work one morning, stopped suddenly and pressed his hand to his head. That was the beginning. He went on presently, but his air was that of a man whose confidence has been shaken.

He attended to his duties that day, but cracked no jokes. In the evening he entered a physician's office.

"Doctor," said he, dropping limply into a chair, "I'm feelin' worse."

Thus he introduced the subject.

The physician glanced at him and involuntarily drew a few paces backward. He was young, the physician.

"Great heavens, man," he ejaculated, "you've got the smallpox!"

Callahan smiled wearily.

"You're all broken out with it. The thing for you to do is to go home. Go right down the middle of the street—the middle of the street, understand. I'll attend to you later."

"But, doctor"—

"Don't stop to talk. Go home. I'll see you before bedtime."

Callahan's head was whirling, else he would have had his say. As it was he arose unsteadily and followed instructions. The outer air revived him somewhat, although the lights of the street danced like pyrotechnics before his eyes, and the voices of the people sounded in his ears like the buzzing of bees. Once at a dark corner he paused, steadying himself by the shoulder against an iron pillar.

"'Tis not funny at all," he assured the pillar solemnly. "The disease is nothin', but the name of it is terrible. Molly's scared to death of it. She's said so many the time. What 'll I be doin' now?"

He tremblingly rubbed the stubble of his chin.

"I can't seem to think," he groaned after an interval. Molly 'll be in on No. 40 tonight, Molly and the baby. The baby—yes, yes. I've never seen him. He looks like me, she writes in her letter from the hospital. Sure, I hope he feels better than I feel. Molly says I'd never know her, she's that thin and white and nervous. 'Tis a hard time of it she's had, poor girl. She says she'll brace up all right after she once gets home to me. Oh, my! Oh, my! The four weeks she's been gone have been centuries long. And tonight she's comin' home—with the baby—that looks like me."

He clinched his hands in an effort to arouse his will power and staggered on. An hour later he reached the roundhouse, having passed on the way the cottage where he dwelt. He had hesitated there, clinging to a tree by the front gate.

"'Tis very fortunate," he told himself, "that I've not been stoppin' at home. I couldn't stand it with Molly not there. Ah, but I'd give the world to go in this minute and stretch myself on the lounge in the little parlor, our parlor, now!"

No one saw him enter the roundhouse. The place was for the time deserted. He rang the telephone, calling for the physician whom he had visited that evening.

"Doctor," said he, "this is Callahan. Smallpox, you know. Don't tell my wife. See Miller at the freight office for further particulars."

That was all he said to the astonished physician. Then he called up a friend at the freight office.

"Miller," said he, "this is Callahan, at the roundhouse. I've got the smallpox. My wife and baby are comin' in on No. 40 tonight. Open up my house. The key's over the back door. Meet her and lie to her a bit. Will you? You will? That's a good old chap. Tell her I got a wire sayin' my mother was dyin' and that I've gone to her. Molly won't take it hard, because my mother was intendin' to come and stay with us this summer. I've got—I've got the smallpox, you know. Ha, ha! Be sure—yes—all right."

He was still laughing hollowly as he reeled away from the telephone, leaving the receiver dangling at the end of its cord, out into the yards among the dancing switch lights.

The next morning when a long freight train clanked into the city a hundred miles from St. James it bore in an otherwise unoccupied box car the all but unconscious form of Callahan. A brakeman found him there. Callahan feebly motioned the brakeman from him.

"Smallpox!" he whispered.

The brakeman fled. Soon the car was set out on a side track, and a physician, clad in rubber garments, clambered to Callahan's side.

"Your name?" he asked.

"Murphy," replied Callahan.

"Where from?"

"Chicago."

And that evening's papers in the city to which Callahan had come chronicled the addition to the list of patients at the local smallpox hospital of a tramp named Murphy, who claimed Chicago as his home.

This happened last summer. The doctor has told the story to Callahan's glory a thousand times, and Miller of the freight office has told it a thousand more.

"You see," says Miller, "Callahan neglected to remove certain letters from his pockets, and these letters led to inquiries. We knew where he was all the time after the first day or two. We saw through his plan easily enough. And, say, of all the tall lying that's been done since the days of Ananias that which we practiced on Callahan's wife was probably the tallest. We forged letters. Doc said that the shock, had the truth been told, might have killed her, frail and nervous as she was. Her confidence in Callahan never wavered for an instant. It was beautiful. And when he returned we met him at the train and went with him to his house. We witnessed the meeting in the doorway. His wife had the baby in her arms and a look on her face that was—well, it was simply the greatest thing I ever saw. And when the door closed and we knew that explanations were being made Doc punched me in the ribs, and I slapped Doc on the back, and we danced like kids."

Callahan himself modestly dismisses the matter with a wave of the hand and the utterance of seven words.

"Sure, I was out of my head," he says.

Hats In the Presence of a King.

The head of the De Courcys, earls of Kinsale, is the only Englishnobleman permitted to wear his hat in the presence of his sovereign. Out of sincere deference the De Courcys wore their hats but for a moment in assertion of their privilege, and then promptly doffed them. One of the earls at a reception given by George III. kept his hat on for a considerable time. At last the king became vexed and humiliated him by saying, "The gentleman has a right to be covered before me, but even King John could give him no right to be covered before ladies."

William III. illustrated his royal obstinacy by refusing to remove his ponderous beaver when at church, much to the indignation of the worshipers. Their indignation did not worry him any. The Dutch wore their hats during divine service, and he had not ceased to be a Hollander simply for having become a king of England. The last sovereign of the Tudor race, together with his courtiers, wore a very high hat, which became the steeple hat of the Puritans in the middle of the seventeenth century.

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, of Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from Indigestion, Stomach and Bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters, and the result was miraculous. I improved at once, and now I am completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50 cents. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. †

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 28.

WRECKS ON THE N. & W. R. R.

Engineer and Fireman Killed and Express Messenger and Mail Clerk Injured. No Passengers Hurt.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., June 27.—The Norfolk and Western passenger train No. 13, west bound, which left here at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was wrecked a quarter of a mile east of Marion at 10 o'clock last night. Engineer Lee Spalding, of Roanoke, and Fireman J. H. Hoovey, of Staunton, were instantly killed, and Express messengers Otey and Wood, of Bristol, seriously, and mail clerks Adams and Jenkins, of Lynchburg, slightly injured. The train was going at a rapid rate when the engine struck a cow. The poney trucks of the engine were derailed and ran a distance of 900 feet on the cross ties before the large trucks were derailed, and the engine, with the tender, mail car, express car and baggage car went over an embankment. Engineer and fireman were caught under the engine. None of the passenger coaches left the rails and except the persons named no one was hurt. A relief train conveyed the men to Bristol.

It is supposed that Engineer Spalding did not realize that the small trucks of his engine were derailed as there was ample time to have stopped the train after that occurrence before it left the rails.

Wreck Near Petersburg.

RICHMOND, VA., June 27.—The Cannon Ball train which left Richmond for Norfolk at 9 o'clock this morning was wrecked near Petersburg.

The accident was caused by an open switch on which was standing a freight train. The Cannon Ball crashed into the engine of the freight. Both engines were badly smashed. Engineer Harry Covington, of the Cannon Ball, and his nephew, Fireman Robert Covington, were both instantly killed. The engineer of the freight train saved himself by jumping. The passengers were badly shaken up and some of them bruised, but none seriously hurt.

Conductor Eckels, of the Cannon Ball, had his collar bone and arms broken and E. R. Hawkins, express messenger, of Richmond, was painfully hurt. J. P. Pharr, of Richmond, was badly bruised. Engineer Covington lived in Crewe and leaves a large family.

CHARLESTON'S LABOR TROUBLE.

Carpenters and Joiners Expected to Quit Work Monday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 27.—The master tradesmen of Charleston have posted notices in all buildings which they are constructing that they will not employ after to-day any workman who is a member of the Builders' Trades council. If this attitude is maintained there is every prospect that all carpenters and joiners who are members of the unions will lay down their tools and practically all building work in the city will come to a standstill next Monday. The contractors declare they will stand firm, and the workmen seem determined. The plumbers, electricians, bricklayers and white painters are not members of the council and will not be affected by the situation.

IN HOT SPRINGS JAIL.

Leader of Gang of Footpads Gut by a Condemned Murderer.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 27.—R. H. Williams, alleged to be leader of a gang of foot-pads under arrest here, was attacked by James Dougherty in the jail at Hot Springs this morning and received injuries that probably will result in death. Dougherty is under sentence of death for the killing of Detective Jack Donahue in Hot Springs on Christmas day last, and has heretofore been confined closely to his cell. He was allowed the freedom of the corridor this morning. He passed out among the other prisoners and grabbing a razor, slashed Williams across the body, severing his liver. Williams was immediately taken to a sanitarium.

THE KAISER ON THE KEARSARGE.

Admiral Cotton Thanked the Emperor for Cordial Reception to American Squadron.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S REPLY.

Concluded With Calling for Cheers for the President and People of the United States—Congratulated on the Launching of Cruiser Roon.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

KIEL, PRUSSIA, June 27.—When Emperor William was congratulated to-day, at the launching of the German armored cruiser Roon, on his yacht Meteor winning the American cup, yesterday, he replied: "The American skippers brought me luck. I would not have won if they had not been with me."

The Roon is the eleventh of Germany's armored cruisers. She was christened by Countess von Waldersee. Rear Admiral Cotton, the captains of the American warships and the members of the United States embassy were in the Emperor's party. The American squadron saluted the new cruiser.

Emperor William and Prince Henry of Prussia took breakfast with Admiral Cotton on board the Kearsarge to-day. Admiral Cotton thanked the Emperor for the cordial manner in which the squadron had been received. Admiral Cotton referred to the large-hearted hospitality that had made every hour of the Americans' presence in German waters pleasant. Since he had met the Emperor he understood why his subjects were so devoted to him. The feeling of the admiral and his men was that wherever his majesty led the Germans would follow. The admiral then proposed the health of the Emperor.

Replying, Emperor William said he hoped whatever impression the admiral and his officers had received, they had been no more than they expected. Eight years had elapsed since the Imperial ensign was first flown from an American warship, the New York. He remembered vividly the agreeable incidents of that visit, and now he was to add these to things that were not to be forgotten. The only thing was that the visits were too far apart. He was convinced that whenever the stars and stripes and the royal standard met, they would together symbolize peace and civilization. The Emperor then called for three cheers for the President and people of the United States.

At the conclusion of the breakfast the Emperor informed Ambassador Tower that he wished to give a medal to each of the three marines who had stood behind his chair.

"Would there be any impropriety, your Excellency, in my doing so?" asked the Emperor.

"I am sorry to say that our regulations do not permit it," replied Mr. Tower.

"Then," said the Emperor, "I would like to give them watches, just as souvenirs."

"That, sir," answered the ambassador, "is also impossible. They, equally with myself, are servants of their country, and could not accept."

"And I cannot even give them a pencil?" continued the Emperor.

"No, your majesty," said Mr. Tower.

"Then," said Emperor William, "tell them that I have the disposition to do so."

Admiral Cotton, after the Emperor left the ship, told the three marines, in the presence of the officers of the ship, what the Emperor had said.

The Emperor has presented the Kearsarge with a silver punch bowl and cover, about sixteen inches high and more than two feet wide.

The newspapers of Berlin print the speeches of Emperor William and Ambassador Tower at the Kiel banquet last night, mostly without comment.

The National Zeitung regards them as important demonstrations for the promotion of German-American relations.

The Tageblatt thinks the speeches breathe cordiality, sympathy and restored confidence, but the paper refers to the Coghlan and Dewey incident to show that the "friendly spirit of the American navy for Germany is a new thing, and is due to President Roosevelt's energetic steps."

The Tageblatt also says it considers it singular that Ambassador Tower mentioned the Emperor's gift of plaster casts to Harvard without alluding to the statue of Frederick The Great.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

Assistant Surgeon Lumsden and Wife Lose Their Money and Jewelry.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SAN JUAN, P. R., June 27.—Leslie Lumsden, an assistant surgeon in the marine hospital service, who is temporarily acting as quarantine officer here, and Mrs. Lumsden, were drugged and robbed at the Inglaterra hotel last night with chloral, which had been placed in lemonade. While they were under the influence of the drug all their money and jewelry were taken from a bureau in the room. A porter who took the lemonade to the Lumsdens has been arrested on suspicion. The Lumsdens to-day have recovered from the effects of the chloral. The incident has caused a great sensation here, as the Inglaterra hotel is the leading hostelry of San Juan. Lumsden came here recently from New Orleans. He was formerly on duty in Washington.

JONES MURDER TRIAL.

The Jury Had Not Reached an Agreement at 10:30 Last Night.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 27.—A special from Wilson, N. C., says:

Judge Shaw reached the court house at 10:30 to-night and finding it impossible for the jury to reach an agreement to-night, has instructed the officer to take the jury to their room at the hotel. While a great deal of time has been consumed by the jury in considering the case the opinion is growing that a verdict will be rendered.

RUSSIAN CRUSADE AGAINST THE JEWS.

The Revolutionary Movement Spreading. Serious Disturbances at Many Places. Inflammatory Circulars.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 24.—The revolutionary movement in Russia seems to be spreading unceasingly and is reaching regions hitherto free from radical agitation. Leaflets directed against the existing conditions of Russian home affairs and demand for revolutionary changes were circulated broadcast during the month of May in thirty-four cities and towns of the empire. Serious street disturbances have occurred at various places, as already cabled, including Bakou, Warsaw, Berdichev, Tiflis, Batoum and Tomas.

It is said that the anti-Semitic agitation at Eastertide extended through out the entire pale of the Jewish settlements. The Monarchical Society, organized at Pinsk, circulated leaflets beginning: "Brother workers, orthodox and Catholic: Christ has arisen. Let us embrace, kiss, and go and kill the Jews."

At Boston-on-the-Don it is said an officer of gendarmrie has been going about the bazaar telling the people that it is the Jews and Socialists who prevent their "Little Father," the Czar, from giving all his children everything they need, and that therefore the Jews and Socialists must be killed off.

The multitude of arrests, in addition to the domiciliary visitations, which have taken place among army officers, literary men, teachers, working men, students and other classes at St. Petersburg, Kiev, Odessa, and in fact in the cities and towns throughout the empire, attest the colossal growth of the revolutionary agitation. It is naturally strongest in the pale of the Jewish settlements, but it has reached such far-off places as Kostroma, on the upper Volga, a region hitherto free from any radical movements.

Dr. Dorosbevsky, who was equally indefatigable in his attentions to the victims of the Kishineff massacre, and in his fearless publication of the truth concerning the massacre, has been forced to resign his position in the Bessarabian provincial hospital at Kishineff.

The Southern Review declares the reason for this to be "that he published facts, figures and names which certain deputies wanted kept secret."

A magistrate at Kishineff continues to hear and dispose of accusations of breaches of the peace, theft and destruction of property, reserving the more serious charges for higher tribunals.

According to Kishineff correspondence the immigration movement shows no sign of abatement. Almost every household is sending members to the United States, while a few are going to Brazil, Argentina and South Africa.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS.

Ten Thousand Communicants Will Attend the Service of the Mother Church To-day—A Message to Mrs. Eddy.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., June 27.—Christian Scientists from far and near poured into Boston by regular and special trains to-day to attend the annual communion service of the Mother Church to-morrow. Ten thousand communicants will attend the services.

To day the body known as "Executive Members" met and sent a message to Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, who is at her home in Concord, N. H., which reads in part:

"We re-affirm our confidence in your ministry, which is leading the human race in the way of Christ Jesus, out of the wilderness of nonscience, which has resulted in the worship of God's many, to the worship of the one and only God in spirit and in truth.

"We congratulate you and all your adherents on the wonderful growth of the Christian Science movement under your wise and benign guidance, a growth without parallel in the history of religion.

"In corroboration of our affirmation that Christian Science is the religion of our Master, we point to many thousands of our fellow men who have been redeemed from the bondage of sin and sickness."

A GREAT FEMALE COLLEGE

To be Established in Durham, N. C., in Connection With Trinity College. Plans Being Perfected.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 27.—A special from Durham, N. C., says:

There is a movement on foot to build in connection with Trinity College a great female college, and a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Trinity will be held next week to consider the organization of this college.

Mr. J. H. Southgate, chairman of the board of trustees, admitted this evening that such a move was on foot, and said that while the plans were definitely conceived he was not ready to give them to the public as yet. Continuing, he said that the woman's college at Trinity would start out with the advantages of a million-dollar investment and that when the plans should be perfected it would be the greatest movement ever made in the South in behalf of higher education for women.

Something definite will be done at the meeting of the executive committee of Trinity next week. It is considered that the woman's college is a certainty.

THE WORLD'S COTTON.

Total Visible Supply as Shown by Secretary Hester's Statement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued to-day, shows the following:

The total visible is 2,295,432 bales, against 2,374,599 last week and 2,514,259 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,122,433 bales, against 1,270,599 last week and 1,657,259 last year, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,103,000 bales, against 1,104,000 last week and 857,000 last year.

The total world's visible supply of cotton shows a decrease compared with last week of 79,157 bales, and a decrease compared with last year of 218,827.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,283,000 bales, against 1,506,000 last year; in Egypt, 34,000 against 78,000 last year; in India, 677,000 against 472,000 year, and in the United States 302,000 against 458,000 last year.

RACE TROUBLE IN WILMINGTON, DEL.

The Entire Police Force Still on Duty and the Military in Their Armory.

ALL WAS QUIET LAST NIGHT.

There Has Been No Encounter of Races Since Thursday—But It Cannot be Predicted That Tranquil State of Affairs Will Continue.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, DEL., June 27.—What was considered the most exciting week in the history of Delaware's principal city, a week stained with the record of a horrible lynching and mob violence, closed calmly and quietly to-night. Despite the fact that peace hovers over the town it cannot be safely predicted that the present tranquil state of affairs will continue. The entire police force is on duty and one hundred national guardsmen are stationed in the armory ready for any duty. The police apparently have a tight grip on the situation and they propose to hold it. Captain Kane, who is command of the police, to-night said he did not look for further trouble.

The bitter feeling exhibited by the whites and blacks against each other appears to be rapidly disappearing. There has been no encounters of the races since Thursday night. While this is the condition of affairs to-night the police propose to keep in force for a few days longer all the precautionary measures they adopted this week. What is undoubtedly the greatest factor in keeping down disorder is the closing of the saloons. An order similar to the one sent out last night was again issued this afternoon and every one of Wilmington's 180 saloons closed at six o'clock to remain closed until midnight Sunday or Monday morning.

Mayor Fisher sent out a suggestion to the store-keepers generally to day to close their places of business at an early hour to-night. The suggestion, however, was not heeded, because there was no necessity for it. The streets of the city were crowded to-night with the usual Saturday night shoppers, but there was no disorder.

A Wilmington evening newspaper to-day quotes the Rev. M. B. Salter, of Charleston, S. C., a bishop of the A. M. E. Church, who is visiting in this city, as follows with regard to the lynching of White.

"We are willing to take off our coats, mount our horses and ride into hell if necessary to see that the law is carried out if one of our race outrages a white woman. We expect the white men to do the same in case similar crime is committed upon our race by white men."

SITUATION AT JACKSON.

Orders Issued Increasing the Powers of the Military in the city.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSON, KY., June 27.—General Murray this afternoon issued orders which will make more absolute the powers of the military in Jackson. The first instructions are to the provost marshal to report to City Judge Cardwell and serve any processes issued. The second order recites that the absolute safety of life and property must be maintained in Jackson, and if any violations of rights, person or property shall occur in the town or in Breathitt county, the commanding officer will use the troops in active service to the extreme limit of his authority. The latter order was posted in conspicuous places over the town. It is expected to serve as a warning. Judge Cardwell and John E. Patrick were called to camp this afternoon and were interviewed by General Murray concerning reports that their lives were in danger. Both assured him that they felt secure, both as to life and property.

THE TOXAWAY DAM.

Experts Say It Is As Safe As Human Skill Can make It

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 27.—The Textile Excelsior says that the Toxaway dam, in the Sapphire country, is creating much concern, and several engineers have been sent there for the purpose of inspecting its condition. The result of this inspection has been awaited with great interest by the people in the valley below, who have recently experienced a flood disaster. The dam holds the waters of a lake twenty-seven miles in circumference and in some places fifty feet deep.

A correspondent of the Observer to-day says that experts have examined the Toxaway dam and pronounce it as safe as human skill and ingenuity can make it.

TEXAS OIL FIELDS.

Excitement Caused by a Blaze in Some Oil Waste—No Damage.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SOUR LAKE, TEXAS, June 27.—Considerable excitement prevailed in the oil field for a time just after noon today, caused by flames springing up on the oil waste belonging to the Guffeys and the Texas Additional Company. The fire was caused by some one throwing a lighted match in the oil. For a time the flames were fierce and led to the belief that the big Guffey tanks were on fire. Surface accumulations soon burned over, however, and by 3 o'clock the flames were completely under control and the loss is comparatively insignificant.

PANAMA CANAL.

Discussion of Treaty Opened in Colombian House of Representatives.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The State Department has received a dispatch from Minister Beaupre, at Bogota, saying that the canal discussion had been opened in the Colombian House by a representative opposed to the canal treaty, who began by calling for the documents relating to the treaty. The government objected on the ground that it was not ready to present the treaty to the House, but would do so later. The government's position was sustained by a vote of 38 to 5.

Sir Thomas Lipton's new cup challenger, Shamrock III, was given her first test yesterday in American waters, in an informal trial with Shamrock I off Sandy Hook. In the first ten miles of a 15-mile beat to windward, in a very light air, the new boat beat the old one about ten minutes, and in a run of 15 miles to leeward nine minutes.

THE STRIKE SITUATION AT RICHMOND, VA.

Cars Running Regularly Under Military Protection—The Crisis of the Strike. Car Fired Upon—No One Hurt.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., June 27.—Cars were run regularly on the Broad, Main, and Clay and Laurel street and Lakeside and Northside lines to-day and to-night, under military protection.

At 10:45 o'clock P. M., no disorder had occurred at any point, and the outlook was for a peaceful night. The bar-rooms were closed at 6 o'clock P. M., by order of the mayor. It is believed that to-night holds the crisis of the strike. It is announced that cars will be run to all the suburban resorts to-morrow. Monday it is proposed to resume operation of the line to Manchester, or the opposite side of the James from Richmond.

There was marked diminution of retail trade to-day, as a result of the existing trouble. Some merchants have arranged to dispense with part of their clerical force until better times arrive.

About 11 o'clock a car was fired on by unknown parties in Rocketts, the harbor quarter of the city, and the fire was returned by the soldiers on the car. Nobody was hurt and nobody was arrested.

TWO MEN FATALLY SHOT.

Father and Son Fired Upon by a Neighbor—Misunderstanding Over Possession of a Dog the Cause.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ALBANY, GA., June 27.—Z. T. Bryant and Albert Bryant, father and son, were fatally shot this morning in Worth county, near here, by J. S. Barfield. The Bryants are saw mill operators and Barfield is a prominent planter. There had been hard feeling between Barfield and the Bryants. The misunderstanding grew out of the possession of a dog. Recently Barfield sent a message to the elder Bryant, which was accepted as an insult. This morning Barfield who was in a buggy met the Bryants near the former's home. Barfield invited the Bryants to go to his house. They began discussing their differences. A dispute arose and young Bryant started into Barfield's yard for the purpose, it is supposed, of striking him. The elder Bryant caught his son and pulled him back, but at this juncture Barfield fired with a shotgun. Albert Bryant fell and another shot disabled his father. Albert Bryant was shot in the head and abdomen and is mortally wounded. Eight buckshot struck Z. T. Bryant. The chances are against his recovery. The young man was married only five weeks ago. Barfield has not been arrested.

B'NAI B'RITH PETITION.

Its Framers Purpose to Have It Numerously Signed by Prominent Christians as Well as Jews.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The officials of the State Department assert positively that a close examination of precedent justifies the presentation by the United States government of the Jewish petition to the Russian government, and that no government has a right to object to the presentation of such a petition, nor has the government the right to object if the presentation is declined. This means that the United States will not find ground for a quarrel with Russia if the Czar refuses to receive the petition now being prepared by the council of B'Nai B'Rith.

There were no developments to-day respecting the petition save an announcement that it is the purpose of the framers to have it numerously signed by prominent Christians as well as Jews. It has been intimated that some changes were made in the text of the document, and it is said that in this case the President and Secretary Hay will closely scrutinize the document to make sure that it contains no objectionable language.

DISTURBANCES IN CROATIA.

Encounters Between Armed Peasants and Police—Several Were Killed.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

VIENNA, June 27.—Fresh disturbances of remarkable extent are reported from Croatia. After a fight between armed peasants and gendarmes near the villiage of Kolovecon Wednesday, in which four persons were killed and seven others seriously wounded, about 180 persons were arrested and taken to Warasdin, where they were placed in prison. The arrival at the prisoners at Warasdin caused much excitement among the inhabitants, and a crowd quickly surrounded their place of confinement with the intention of releasing them. According to unconfirmed reports received here, a fight ensued between the military and the crowd, during the progress of which several persons were killed.

HOMICIDE IN ALABAMA.

Man Killed by Police Officers While Attempting to Escape.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

GADSDEN, ALA., June 28.—Gus Stedman was shot and killed at Alabama City late yesterday by Policeman N. P. Jarrard and A. N. Barnes, while attempting to make his escape. It is alleged that John Stedman had kidnapped Mamie McKnight, the 13-year old daughter of R. R. McKnight, stole seven dollars from her, and it is said forced her to go with him to the woods where it is reported Gus Stedman and Sue Harvey, a woman of Chattanooga, were in hiding from the officers. Stedman claims, it is understood, that he intended marrying the girl. John Stedman and Sue Harvey have been jailed and the McKnight girl has been taken home by her father. There is great indignation at Alabama City.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The Issue of $75,000,000 New Stock Virtually All Subscribed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—The time limit for subscribing to the Pennsylvania railroad company's issue of $75,000,000 of new stock expired at noon to-day. It was not possible to obtain from the treasury department of the company exact figures as to the total amount of subscriptions and it is not likely that an official announcement will be made before next Tuesday. It is known, however, that virtually all of the stock has been subscribed, and the Speyer-Kohn Loeb underwriting syndicate will have little more to do than collect about $2,500,000 commissions.

A Very Suspicious Case.

"It's wonderful, the change that has come over that man in the last month," remarked a prominent evangelist to a leading minister yesterday as an ex-convict passed them where they were waiting to take an east end car. "At one time he was the very worst who ever struck the city and did time for highway robbery."

"I notice that he has braced up," and the minister looked after him approvingly. "He seems to have reformed thoroughly. The other evening he attended service at my church and picked up a pocketbook with a sum of money, which he handed over to one of the deacons after service. Lots of people who were never suspected of crime wouldn't have done as well."

"Do you know, I think he's a little bit wrong in his head," said the evangelist in a tone suggestive of an inquiry.

"Yes," replied the minister meditatively. "Besides the incident I have just mentioned, I have noticed a lot of little things that lead me to think he's kind of crazy. I believe he's a good one to keep an eye on."—Duluth News-Tribune.

There seems to be work and work plenty for everybody to do. While our people are making their strides to the front I am trying to keep in the procession. My business is to sell dry goods, shoes and clothing, millinery, house furnishing goods and trunks. Our Big Store on Front street is receiving New Goods every day—we have added a big line of new white Lawn this week; this line is extra good value, 5c to 25c; a nice line of 32 inch Dress Lawns with small dots and stripes and white grounds, pretty patterns, 5c yard; one line 25c lawns in colors, bought cheap, we will run at 12½c yard.

The price is $1 a garment or $2 a suit and the caps are 15c; we are the sole agent for this overall for this city and we would be glad for you to look at them and compare them with other makes; we don't simply say they are as good, but say they are better.

For Trunks—This is the season when if you are leaving home you want a nice trunk; we handle trunks and have a big line to show; we have a nice line of roller tray trunks for the ladies and we carry three factories' lines. The price runs from $7.50, $9, $10 and up to $15 each; canvas covered trunks, with leather straps and iron bound, $3.50 to $6 each; all styles in packing trunks from 50c up to $2 each.

All kinds of Velvet ribbons.

Wilmington's Big Racket Store has been very successful this year. We have sold more goods than ever. We have got the goods and we want to sell them.

Remember the new line of overalls—The Headlight. We expect to make this line of overalls carry the procession in the head ranks of the overall business.
